

Ujunwa Okeke, Marketing Associate

Uju is a communication specialist who believes that everyone has a right to a better quality of life regardless of their background. Over the years, Uju has worked in organizations with this kind of mission both in Nigeria and in the U.S. Before joining The Learning Source, Uju worked with the communication and Sustainability department of Colorado State University (CSU) as a sustainability intern. There she oversaw the publication of monthly sustainability articles. During her time in school at CSU, she was a teaching assistant and worked closely with undergraduate students helping to teach and provide out-of-class support. Uju is passionate about education and thoroughly believes in the words of Malcolm X that "Education is the passport to the future, for tomorrow belongs to those who prepare for today." She believes that setting and starting an important life goal, such as getting an education, is something that everyone should consider doing without hesitation. She is excited to be in a position where she can help create more visibility to the brand name at The Learning Source, and encourage people to take charge of their future through education. Uju can be reached by email at ujunwa@thelearningsource.org